Grand Ratification Meeting in Music Hall.

SPEECHES BY REID AND HALE

Rousing Receptions Given the Candidates for Governor and Lietenant Governor, Hale and Walcott.

Bosros, Oct. 4. - Music ball and Fanuiel hall were both filled to overlowing tonight when the republicans ratified their state and national nominations with ringing speeches by the Hon. Whitelaw Ried, Governor Mc-Kinley, Lieutenant Governor Hale and the Hon. Roger Walcott, the two latter being nominees for governor and lieutenant governor respectively. As soon as the doors of Music hall were opened there was a rush for seats and many who came later were thankful to find standing room. Hon. W. E. Barrett presided and was flanked by a large number of leading men of the party upon the platform. After a short introductory speech, Hon. Whitelaw Reid was prespeech, Hon. Whitelaw Reid was pre-sented as the first speaker of the even-ing. As he stepped forward he was given a most flattering reception by the large audience, which was quick to note the sharp points of his address and bestowed frequent applause. Mr. Reid began by thanking his hearers for the reception tendered him which he did not presume to think personal, but simply accorded him as the representative of the grand old party, whose achievements he briefly recorded. Continuing he said: "The republican party is now in power. The country is peaceful, contented and prosperous beyond preced-ent. Shall we therefore make a sweeping change? Up to Tuesday last it was no question at all for our opponents. They openly and without disguise, and without exceptions or dissent, wanted a change as abrupt and as important as can well be conceived. They wanted to reverse the old revenue policy of the government since 1861 by a change from the American idea, a protective tariff, to the modern English idea, a tariff for revenue out. nue only. That would mean a shock to business and a disaster to labor that would exceed anything this generation has seen. They wanted to reverse the fiscal policy of the government since 1861 by abandoning again a part of the national prerogative of issuing money—breaking down the best currency this continent ever saw, the national bank notes, to substitute for it the worststate notes and chin plasters. That would mean a shock to all banking and exchanges and an inconvenience and less to every citizen. Our opponents denounce as a sham the reciprocty treaties, by which we secured new markets for our products in Central America, South America and Europe in return for the free admission of sugar, coffee and tea to your breakfast tables. That means unless their profession of principle is itself a sham, the closing again of those markets and a high revenue tariff again on sugar, coffee and tea. That the democratic party demand these charges everybody knows. But something has happened. Since last Tuesday they have been demoralized and almost on the run. It is obviously truthful to say that Mr. Cleveland acts toward the platform of his party as if he were afraid that if he

in the platform are state bank him precedence over all others." currency, reciprocity and the tar-iff. On two of them his letter is absolutely silent while he writes all around and about the third. But he does tell us that tariff reform is still his purpose. That is to say the business of the country must have no peace. Everything must be once more unsettled and the whole tariff must be turned out again to be tinkered by a congress of that party which at Chicago declared by nearly a two-thirds majority for the English as against the American system and pronounced protection unconstitutional. He says that he wants to change things by reforming the tariff. The party gives pledges to the country as to the sort of reform its congress-not Mr. Cleveland, but its congress—would make a tard for revenue only, any other being unconstitutional. He tries to quiet alarm by saying that free trade is impossible. Certainly. England says the same thing and maintains most rigidly just the sort of tariff Mr. Cleveland's platform demands-a tariff for revenue only. Qualifications or omissions can blind ever much Mr. Cleveland may regret it as an honorable man he is bound hand and foot to the platform of his party at Chicago, just as all the world knows that he is today bound to the car of triumphal Tammany in New York. Never since 1884 have our opponents disclosed so plainly the real spirit that controls their majority and their actual incapacity to comprehend their coun-

ld venture to step on it he would

At the conclusion of Mr. Reid's speech Governor McKinley was introduced and received an ovation as he rose to speak. He devoted his time mainly to a discussion of the tariff, and at his conclusion was followed by Lieutenant-Governor Hale and Hon. Roger Wolcott, who had just addressed the meeting in Fanuit hall, to which place Mesers. Reid and McKinley were then taken.

The Longest Tunnel. A tunnel, the longest in the world, has been projected and begun prac-tically under Simplon to supersede the famous road over the mountain constructed by Napoleon. The "Route of the Simplon" is thirty-eight miles in length; the tunnel will be a trifle less than twelve miles and a half. The wagon road is 6,592 feet above sea level, is twenty-five to thirty feet wide. crosses 611 bridges, and passes through several tunnels. It takes eight or nine hours to cross the mountain by the wagon road; the tunnel can be traversed in three-quarters of an hour. The power to run the drills, light the workings and ventilate the tunes is to be derived from the river Marsa. The cost is estimated at about $1,240,000 a mile.

Humane Slaughtering. Some years ago the unfortunate cattle that had been set spart to provide the world with beef were slaughtered by means of a heavy hammer with which they were struck upon the head directly between the eyes. It was a cruel method, but it appeared for a time to se the only way. Later the method was changed and the poor beasts were strung up by the hind legs and their throats were cut, a plan which was scarcely better than the other. Now Scotland has set the world an example in humanity by adopting electricity as the means to this end. School Teachers and Artists Protest Against Stowing It Up in a Gallery, They Want 200,000 Feet.

CHICAGO, Oct. 4 .- To protest against the present small allotment of space for a liberal arts exhibit at the World's fair nearly fifty educators from different parts of the country met in the board of education rooms this afterpoon. Telegrams and letters from as many more were read.

Educators Heig & Meeting, The teachers and educational leaders of the country are very much in earnest about the manner of securing an adequate amount of space at the world's fair for an educational display. A meeting of educators from many states of the union was in progress this afternoon at the rooms of Super nten-dent Cane, in the city hall. The object of the meeting was to make a demand for sufficient space in the build-ings now completed to accommodate the educational exhibit which the schools of the country are preparing, or else a separate building for the ex-

Callers of the Meeting. The meeting was called a week ago by a committee consisting of Prof. W. N. Hailmon of Indiana, Superintendent Lane of Chicago, William A. Bell of Indiana, Henry Sabin of Iowa, Superintendent Wells of Wisc nain, and Prof. J. H. Smart of Purdue University, Indiana. This committee represented the National Educational Association, and it sent out a call to all the leading educators of the country to come to Chicago and devise some plan of action which would pre-vent the educational exhibit from being stowed away in the gallery of the manufactures building.

Want at Least 200,000 Feet, At the time the call was issued : week ago the world's fair managers had reduced the allotment of space for the educational exhibit from 200,000 square feet to 60,000, and was about to confin it to the gallery, as mentioned above. After the call had gone out this design was reconsidered and the matter deferred until the educational interests could be heard from. The educators responded pretty generally to the call, and when they convened at 2 o'clock this afternoon were prepared to pass resolutions demanding fair treatment from the exposition management.

Sen Legs Needed.

"I tell you it requires a good deal of practice to be able to stand in the cab of a rapid-running passenger train and fire coal into the boiler," said an employe, in speaking of the risks run by trainmen, to the Burlington Hawkeye. "The engine rocks, sways and fairly jumps at times under his feet, and if the fireman doesn't mind his p's and q's he is liable to lose his balance and be flung from the rapid-gaited train. This is more especially the case in rounding a curve. There, if the balance is lost, the fireman may be hurled from the train. I remember a case in point which happened comparatively short time ago on the Fort Wayne. A fireman was flung from his engine one dark night as the train was rushing along. Of course, he was soon missed and a search made. He was found and, wonderful to say, was not seriously injured."

the of them had lost an arm and acr as the single less of the other lay a pair of ecutches. They had just returned it in the Washington encampment, and beneath the arcons of figure on the handsome monument, which is such a distinctive piece of descention to frank Rapida, were indulgent in reminiscences of the war of the relocation.

"I never see a veteran of the late war," said a gen Jeman who was passing with a friend, as the latter called his attention to the foures beneath the monument. "that i do not leed if e taking off my hat to h m."

This is a common a stime at, which it is very creditable to posse a. Zachariah Wismer is an immate of the Soldiers' Home. The Jollowing statement was made by him to a reporter a few days ago:

ZACHARI M WISHER, S 1d ers' Home. "For two years and five months I was afflicted with a very severe lung trouble. I had a neavy cough sharp, shoot ng pains in the chest and under the shoulder filedes and a feeling i it intness in the chest with shortness o breat, and wheezing, and became weak and emediated.
"I spent over two hundred dollars in try ng to obtain relief, but never found a physician who could do me any good. I was treated for lung disease and was told that I had consumption.

who could do me any good. I was treated for lung disease and was told that I had consumption.

"A few weeks ago I noticed the advertisement of the Copeland Medical Institute offering free treatment to those who were suffering from any physical complaint, and I went to the institute for treatment. At that time my breath was so short that I could hardly climb a pair of stairs, and could not walk any distance without becoming completely out of breath. I had a sore throat and suffered greatly from hoarseness.

"Under the treatment of Dra Copeland and Graham, my cough has almost entirely disappear d, and my breathing has so improved that I can climb three flights of a res without any trouble. My bodily condite a loss much improved, and the hearseness from which I suffered has been greatly relieved. I am anxious that every sufferer should obtain the same relief, and I make this statement to be published for that purpose. I think the treatment I have received has been wenderful in its effects and I heartly assure everybody that they will make no mist ke if they go to the physicians of the Copeland Medical Institute."
